Welcome to Oakland Yard Athletics
25th Year of Summer Camps

Meet the Three Women that Make Camp Happen!

They have the RIGHT STUFF... for a Summer of Fun!

Ashley Back (Camp Director), Stephanie Wilson (Assistant Director) and Kylee Konieczka (Assistant Director). Together, the three of them bring 21 years of teaching experience and have a wide range of expertise. Their professional certifications include preschool through high school, as well as special education and ESL.

All three are quite active, play a variety of sports and love being outside! Coach Ashley says her favorite thing about camp is seeing all the campers laughing and having fun everyday and stepping out of their comfort zones to try new camps. Coach Steph’s favorite thing about camp is getting to have fun and being silly with kids of all ages. And when asked what she loves about camp, coach Kylee says “where else do you get to work and make bonds and friendships that last a lifetime, play outside all day long and get to go down the slip and slide with the kids?!"

Car Town

Vroom, VROOM, VROOOOOOM!!!! All campers will get their own personal battery powered 4-wheeler to ride and use throughout the week while they learn the ‘rules of the road’. Prior to getting the keys for some all out fun, campers will have to earn their driver’s license by taking a written and practical driving test. Not to worry moms and dads, these cars don’t go very fast, and the written test is designed for all to pass.

Our overall message to the kids will be to show them the challenges and obstacles we parents go through to keep our cars on the road – buying or leasing, repairs, maintenance, insurance, and the laws. Throughout the week, campers will learn how to handle themselves while parking, negotiating four-ways stops, merging into traffic, and obeying several types of traffic signs.

If this sounds like fun, just wait until camp time. We promise to not only educate your little driver wannabe, but entertaining them as well!

We will spend every day helping each girl discover what makes her awesome, and work to break down the idea that she has to live up to some unrealistic standard.

Pilot Camp

Children interested in flying into the wild blue yonder should definitely participate in this camp! Groups of three, with instructor, will share time in their own Cessna 172 throughout the week. Due to flight times and pilot schedules, punctuality for this camp is critical, and registration closes 1 week prior to the first day of camp. Campers will each get approximately the same total amount of stick time over the course of the week.

Monday - Campers learn the fundamentals of flight, how to preflight an aircraft, the basics of aircraft instruments and Aircraft OPS. Classroom time 2.5 hours.

Tuesday - Campers will spend their time in the air concentrating on preflight, turns, climbs, and descents, flight altitude and basic maneuvers.

Wednesday - Preflight, maneuvers, pattern work and take offs & landings will be the day’s topics.

Thursday - The week will culminate in a cross-country trip to Kalamazoo Airport where campers will have lunch and a chance to tour the air museum. Friday - Reserved as a make-up day in case of inclement weather. If any days are cancelled due to weather, the time will be made up Friday.

Campers will receive a flight logbook in which they will be able to log their stick time. Campers will each get approximately the same total amount of stick time over the course of the week. This will then be signed by their instructor and can later be applied as flight credit toward their private pilot’s license. The FAA requires 40 hours of flight time with an instructor for licensing.

Cost includes fuel, aircraft rental, museum entrance fee, lunch on Thursday, and flight logbook.

- Open to campers ages 10 to 17.
- Due to plane seating, Pilot Camp only runs with 3 campers.

I can’t wait for summer so I can go back to camp!”

Too Old for Day Camp? Too Young to Get a Job?

As our campers climb through the age ranks of camp at OYA we are consistently looking at our programs from a parent’s perspective when it comes the entertainment and education of these kids. When they get to 11 and 12 years of age we understand the need to challenge them and start to provide them with some earned freedom and independence. As children enter these age groups and parents want them in the safe confines of Oakland Yard throughout the summer, we’ve designed two different programs. Some kids may choose to start with one, and move to the other later, or they may prefer to just stick with one of the options. Take a look and see what makes the most sense for your child.

Aspiring Leaders

This is a structured program designed for the campers who are interested in stepping into leadership roles in the future. This program will be facilitated by a member of our leadership staff who will work with them throughout the week on skill building and leadership development which will benefit from them not only at camp, but also at school and in life.

This introductory leadership program will give kids daily responsibilities at camp and begin to cultivate leadership skills such as active listening, public speaking, positive role modeling and peer guidance.

Through group discussions and role-play, our Aspiring Leaders will consider how a leader behaves, what types of things a leader might say and do, and then take what they have learned out among their peers.

- Open to campers ages 11-14
- Max 10 campers per session
- Times: 9:00am to 5:00pm
- Lunch is included every day
- Cost: Members: $125
  Non-Members: $150

Camp-X

What do you do when you’re too old for traditional day camps, but too young to become a CIT or, GASP, get a job!? You come to Camp-X!

Camp-X inside our dome includes old school video games, X-Box 360, age appropriate books and magazines, movies, an electric guitar with an amp, and a complete drum set for jamming! Kids will have oversight throughout the day and week, along with the ability to move throughout the facility and participate in a variety of sports, games and activities.

Each Camp X-er will get a cool stadium cup to keep. Throughout the week they can fill up their cups with a soft drink at the kitchen counter and then go back to home base to relax anytime.

Camp X-ers will spend a portion of each day engaged in group activities designed to break down insecurities, build confidence, and open them up to new people and experiences.

Monday through Thursday Camp-Xer’s will walk to a local establishment for lunch with the Camp-X staff. On Friday, we will bring in Jet’s Pizza.
